

B'T X

Illumitoon Entertainment is proud to present

“B'T X” From Masami Kurumada, the creator of the popular "Saint Seiya" series comes this futuristic tale of technology gone wrong, and mankind's struggle to correct the balance. In the future, robotology has progressed to an advanced state. Leading this charge is Professor Kotaro (Kit) Takamiya, a brilliant scientist and expert in the field of robotology, who is kidnapped by the empire of machines known as "The Dominion". The Dominion has their sights aimed at utilizing his skills for their brutal plans involving perfecting BT's, robotic winged battle creatures who are blindly loyal to the donor of their essential ingredient - human blood. Meanwhile, Kit's younger brother Tepppei is attacked by the Dominion's ruthless warrior, Metal Face. But during the ensuing battle, the blood from injured Teppp resurrects an untamed prototype BT- the legendary BT'X! Now, together with BT'X, Teppp is off to rescue his brother, and battle the Empire of Machines...In stores everywhere Tuesday February 27th!!